INT. PARTY - NIGHT

MACY and CAM, a couple, are standing around at a party. Something is clearly bothering MACY, CAM is ignoring it and trying to distract himself.

MACY is anxious, she has been trying to get CAM's attention all night.

MACY

Cam, can we please find somewhere to talk?

CAM

We just got here, like, 30 minutes ago. Party's not even started yet.

MACY

(She looks at her watch)
It's been an hour.
(Pause)
I don't think anyone will miss us.

(Pensive)
Fine
(He sets his drink down)

They exit, looking for a secluded, windowless room.

INT. STAIRCASE - CONTINUOUS

They walk downstairs to a basement.

INT. DARK WINDOWLESS ROOM - CONTINUOUS

They settle in and sit down. There is some awkward silence.

MACY

I think should break up.

CAM

That's so funny, I think we should make out right now.

MACY

What?

CAM

Ok fine.

(Pause)

Where is this coming from? I thought things were good between us.

MACY

Don't act like you didn't know.
You've been avoiding this all night, knowing I was gonna bring this up.

CAM

(shocked, insulted)

I didn't. I really didn't. I mean maybe I could tell you were off, but I don't like dealing with that stuff you know that.

MACY

How do you expect to be in a relationship if you can't even confront difficult shit?

(Pause, MACY fiddles with her fingers)

You don't even know how painful it is to feel like you can't tell the one person you're supposed to trust most how you feel.

There's more awkward silence.

CAM

I'm sorry.

Long pause.

MACY
You don't really mean that.

CAM
I don't know how to prove to you that I mean it.

MACY
You could speak with a little conviction for once.

Long awkward pause.

CAM
I really thought we were in a different place.
(Pause)
But maybe I was just trying to convince myself I was happy.

MACY
Me too. I just couldn't take it anymore. I couldn't pretend that I was.

There's a long silence, its not necessarily awkward though.
They go back and forth looking at each other until their eyes finally meet.

MACY (CONT'D)
I still care about you, Cam.

CAM
I care about you too. I want you in my life. But maybe we're just not meant to be together.

MACY
Where does that leave us?

CAM
We can brave the world as friends.

MACY
(she nods her head and looks at her watch) Wow, it's already morning, we should head out of here.

They leave the room and head back up the stairs to go outside. They open double doors outside. There is not a single person in sight.

EXT. OUTSIDE OF BUILDING - MORNING

CAM
Where is everyone?

MACY
It's still early, people might not be up yet.

They turn the corner to see people lying lifeless on the ground.

CAM AND MACY
Oh my god.

They walk around a little bit more to find the world is suddenly empty.

MACY'S phone vibrates with an alert. She lifts up her phone to the screen to display a message that reads "IF YOU ARE READING THIS, YOU HAVE SURVIVED THE END OF THE WORLD." She drops her phone, it falls into the grass. They both look forward, Cam grabs her hand.
